Complex Structures: Indelible Stories of Coming Home

Exhibition, Book and Window Design
Inaugural Opening Exhibition
Cleveland Foundation Headquarters
Cleveland, OH
2023

Multimedia exhibition and series of zines produced in collaboration with Amber N. Ford, Shelli Reeves, and lifelong residents of the Hough, Mt. Pleasant, and Glenville neighborhoods of Cleveland between 2020 – 2023.

My coming home story is monumental. Like looking at old photos after being away. In a strange way I see so much beauty out here. And I see so many beautiful people. Could be a grandmother that helps you, shapes you. Older sister, auntie. When he grows up, he will say, "There was this lady up my street and when I was a little boy, she showed me kindness." Home is love. Vulnerability is home. A difficult relationship. Different traumas. Mama on Saturday playing Anita. Marvin, Prince, Snoop. Red beans and rice, pinto beans etouffée, jambalaya, gumbo. Grill going, ribs, pink lotion, clean linen. Home smells like shea butter. Take three deep breaths and come home to myself. I can feel at home through my breath or through a breeze of air. Not only a structure; Home could be the people around you.
